Indian Pickleball Association commits to respecting and valuing each child, adolescent, and young person in our program irrespective of the person's age, gender, dis/ability, religion, caste, ethnic background, or any other vulnerability. I promise that we will always stand for the rights of children. As President of the Indian Pickleball Association (IPA), I commit to a safe, engaging learning space that builds an enabling environment for growth and development.

Suryaveer Singh Bhullar

President, Indian Pickleball Association

Date: 1st February, 2025

Part 1- Policy

Section 1- Indian Pickleball Association's commitment to children

Indian Pickleball Association is committed to working with children. Indian Pickleball Association fully acknowledges the organisation's responsibilities and duty of care for child protection through our day-to-day contact with children. Indian Pickleball Association further commits that all Indian Pickleball Association staff can prevent and respond to the risk of injury and harm.

Indian Pickleball Association recognises the important role that parents and guardians play and seeks their consent to children's participation in programmes and activities. The Child Friendly Child Protection Policy is provided for children and parents and guardians of children participating in Indian Pickleball Association programmes.

Indian Pickleball Association uses a sport-based curriculum to engage children and ensure that they make the right choices for a constructive journey from childhood towards better and dignified livelihoods as adults.

As a result, children emerge from the programme with more control and choice in their lives and who contribute confidently and constructively to a better society.

Indian Pickleball Association vision - A world where children and youth have the choice and control to be socially and economically empowered.

Section 2- Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy- principles and approach

Indian Pickleball Association aims to uphold the right of children to be protected from all forms of physical or mental violence, injury or abuse, neglect or negligent treatment, maltreatment or exploitation, including sexual abuse, while in the care of parent(s), legal guardian(s) or any other person who has the care of the child, in line with the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child Articles 1 and 191.

Indian Pickleball Association includes corporal punishment within its definition of abuse in line with Article 19, protection of children from all forms of violence and aims to prevent and protect children from corporal punishment. Indian Pickleball Association recognises that the effects of abuse on a child may be long-lasting and will refer children to appropriate support services.

Indian Pickleball Association recognises its responsibility to protect all children, regardless of the child's or his or her parent's or legal guardian's race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national, ethnic or social origin, property, disability, birth or other status (United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child Article 22).

Indian Pickleball Association works to prevent the harm and abuse of children whilst they are taking part in sessions and in the care of the Indian Pickleball Association

Furthermore, the Indian Pickleball Association recognises its responsibility to respond if staff, volunteers, visitors or associates become aware of a child who is experiencing, or at risk of, abuse whether within, or outside, the Indian Pickleball Association programmes. At all times, the Indian Pickleball Association seeks to promote the best interests of children and maintain the trust of children, communities and other professionals. Indian Pickleball Association recognises that children have a right to be listened to and to know who to tell if they have any concerns about their participation in Indian Pickleball Association sessions.

Indian Pickleball Association recognises that some children are more vulnerable and require extra protective measures such as children with disabilities, girl children etc. The rights of children to privacy is respected.

The Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy should be understood in the context of the wider organisational values and vision.

The general framework of safety for Indian Pickleball Association in sport and outdoor sessions

Indian Pickleball Association ensures the safety of children participating in Indian Pickleball Association's Programmes and protects children from abuse, as well as protecting children from injury and harm. Indian Pickleball Association recognises that there is an increased risk of harm and injury for children participating in sports and outdoor sessions.

All staff and volunteers running programmes must ensure that all children are safe when participating in sport and outdoor sessions.

For more information, see Part 3- Procedures Safety for outdoor sessions Safety for outdoor sessions.

Section 4- Scope and accountability:

This policy applies to all staff, volunteers, visitors and associates of the Indian Pickleball Association who are all responsible for reading, understanding and adhering to the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and Child Protection Code of Conduct. The Child Protection Officer has overall responsibility for the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy.

Indian Pickleball Association commits to ensuring the full participation of children by providing them with safe and joyful learning spaces. It also commits to developing strong and positive relationships between mentors and children. Anyone who exploits this relationship will be investigated.

All child protection concerns are reported according to the reporting guidelines in part 3 of this Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy Reporting. The Child Protection and Gender Inclusion Committee leads all child protection investigations. Any breach of the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and Child Protection Code of Conduct may result in dismissal and reports to formal authorities.

Section 5- Implementation strategy Indian Pickleball Association implements the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and Child Protection Code of Conduct through:

4 Including partners 5 Comprises of the Child Protection Officer of Indian Pickleball Association, Director HR and Head, Legal

a) Proactive prevention

i. Child protection capacity building All staff, volunteers, visitors, and associates receive an induction to the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and ongoing child protection capacity building.

Children, adolescents and families also receive an orientation to the Child-Friendly Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and Child Protection Code of Conduct to ensure that they understand Indian Pickleball Association is responsible for keeping children safe within the Indian Pickleball Association programmes and how to raise concerns if Indian Pickleball Association fails in this duty. Indian Pickleball Association will provide children, adolescents and families with details of support services when their right to protection is violated.

ii. Child protection code of conduct A Child Protection Code of Conduct outlines the expected behaviours of all staff, volunteers, visitors and associates. They are required to sign to confirm that they have understood the policy prior to accessing information about children within Indian Pickleball Association programmes, or visiting Indian Pickleball Association programmes.

Part 2- Child protection code of conduct.

iii. Recruitment Child-safe recruitment processes are followed for all staff and volunteer positions. Specific responsibilities for child protection are defined in Job Descriptions and interviews to determine suitability to work with children. Background checks, carried out as required by the norms of the country, are conducted for all staff and volunteer positions. Candidates are only confirmed in posts where an interview and background check show no risks to children.

Visitors and associates who have not undergone these checks do not have unsupervised access to children.

iv. Risk identification and management Risk assessments and safety checks are conducted as the programmes for children are developed. Risk assessments and safety checks are routinely conducted prior to each session at the venues and on transportation. Corrective action is taken to address any identified risks. Where risks cannot be prevented, sessions may be postponed to ensure the safety of children participating in the session.

Risk management includes ensuring that all information on children is stored confidentially and names and identifying features of children are not disclosed to anyone who is not part of Indian Pickleball Association programmes.

Where programmes are implemented in partnership with other organisations, for example with schools, the partnership agreement determines which organisation is responsible for risk assessments and management.

v. Raising children's awareness

Children participating in Indian Pickleball Association programmes are given the Child-Friendly Child Protection Policy to help them understand that they have the right to be safe when participating in Indian Pickleball Association sessions and how to report concerns. The Indian Pickleball Association curriculum provides opportunities for children to develop skills to recognise risks and stay safe from harm. Parent sessions also provide opportunities for parents and guardians to learn about children's right to be safe from harm.

b) Response to child protection concerns

i. Reporting Any child, adult, staff, volunteer, visitor and associate can report child abuse, knowing that this report will be taken seriously. There does not need to be certainty that a child is at risk or has been harmed, it is enough to raise a concern.

The report must be made to the Youth Mentor or Training and Monitoring Officer responsible for the session as soon as possible and no later than 24 hours after becoming concerned. This will be actively investigated. If the investigation finds that it is likely that a violation of the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy has taken place, the case may be reported to the police and the person concerned dismissed. Where the investigation finds that it is unlikely that any child abuse has taken place staff will be reinstated.

Indian Pickleball Association takes its responsibilities seriously and will respond to complaints in a fair and transparent way, this includes an appeals process.

Any deliberately false child protection reports may result in the person providing false reports being dismissed in line with the Whistleblowing policy.

See the reporting process in Part 3 for more information on how to report Reporting. The reporting form can be found in Part 5 Annexes Child Protection Report form.

c) Child Protection and Gender Inclusion Committees

Indian Pickleball Association has established a system of Child Protection and Gender Inclusion Committees. There are Child Protection and Gender Inclusion Committees at international, national regional and subregional levels. They are responsible for responding to reports of child abuse at their relevant level. The reporting structure goes from regional or state level, national to international level. Concerns can be elevated to the next level in cases of significant risk to a child or the organisation.

Where there are large geographical distances between programmes and regional or state-level Child Protection and Gender Inclusion Committees, district-level Child Protection and Gender Inclusion Committees will be established.

The Indian Pickleball Association Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy including the Code of Conduct, system for reporting concerns, risk management, provision of advice and support, training, recruitment and work with partners is reviewed at a minimum every three years. The review includes the participation of children. Once in each three-year cycle, the Indian Pickleball Association conducts an audit of the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy implementation. Information from the audit will inform the future Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy implementation.

d) Child Protection & working with partners

Indian Pickleball Association works in partnership with a number of different organisations. Partnerships can be of any kind of contracted joint work, including with the media, celebrities, funders, government organisations, civil society organisations etc.

Indian Pickleball Association ensures that partners share a joint commitment to child protection and this is outlined in partnership agreements. All partnership agreements must specify which organisation holds overall responsibility for child protection, including investigations and final decisions. Partners must agree to implement this Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy or have their own policy in place before the 8 partnership with the Indian Pickleball Association is established. Monitoring of Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy implementation also takes place with partners.

e) Child Protection, Media & Communications

Before photographing or filming a child for work-related purposes, Indian Pickleball Association assesses and complies with local traditions or restrictions on reproducing personal images. At a minimum Indian Pickleball Association obtains consent from the child/ parent or guardian and explains how the images will be used. All Indian Pickleball Association photographs, films, videos and DVDs present children in a dignified and respectful manner. Children must be adequately clothed and not in poses that could be perceived as sexually suggestive.

Identities and identifying features of children remain confidential.

All unpublished images of children are securely stored: hard copies are kept in locked storage and electronic copies are password protected.

See also the Indian Pickleball Association's Social Media policy for how to share stories of children engaged with the Indian Pickleball Association.

f) Support Services

Children's safety and well-being are a priority and children who have experienced injury, harm or abuse will be provided with necessary support services. Indian Pickleball Association has effective links with organisations which provide support to children who have experienced injury, harm and abuse.

g) Visitors & Associates

Visitors and associates are required to read and understand the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and Code of Conduct prior to visiting Indian Pickleball Association programmes. They are bound by the same responsibilities to protect and safeguard children as Indian Pickleball Association staff. They are not allowed to be alone with children or have access to identifying details or confidential information about children. Visitors and associates include anyone who visits, Indian Pickleball Association venues, or is associated in any way with Indian Pickleball Association, including but not limited to, board members, consultants, researchers, partners, media and donors.

Part 2- Child Protection Code of Conduct Indian Pickleball Association recognises the important role that staff, volunteers, visitors and associates play in the lives of children. It therefore requires each person to recognise his/ her responsibility to:

- Ensure the safety and welfare of children is paramount.
- Respect the rights, dignity and worth of every child and treat all children equally regardless of race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national, ethnic or social origin, property, disability, birth or other status.
